VANCOUVER (CP)—The 10,000-ton freighter Seaboard Trader ran aground at Calamity Point in Vancouver harbor today. The 45-man crew escaped injury and remained aboard pending plans to refloat the vessel at high tide tonight. It is believed a strong tide may have pushed the ship ashore.

Undersea Test Of Atomic Bomb Set For July 25

By ELTON C. FAY
ABOARD U.S.S. MT. McKinley (AP)—Vice Admiral W. H. P. Blandy today set July 25 as the tentative date for the detonation of Bikini's second atomic bomb, this one "an attack against hulls. It will be exploded slightly under the surface of the lagoon.

The chief Task Force 1 told newspapermen he had scaled down his original estimates of a 100-foot tidal wave resulting from the sub-surface blast. The wave, he said, probably would not be more than 70 feet. That would be enough to send green water over Bikini Island.

Blandy expects some form of radioactive cloud to result from the spray blown up from the underwater explosion. Contamination of ships by the spray and by solid water tossed on their decks is expected to be a factor in delaying their return for inspection.

The admiral in a reappraisal of the July 10 airborne drop termed it a "miss of appreciable dimensions" because of wind and other uncontrollable factors, but said, however, that "nothing" went wrong with this test to prevent it from being a complete success.

The test was a success because the target fleet had been arrayed to take care of the possibility of a miss.

Capt. Shields Warren, radiological specialist, reported meantime that about 10 per cent of the 3,600 animals aboard the target fleet had died from the atomic blast, radiation or drowning.

Survey Of Depths Of Fallen Sea Floor Possible In Autumn

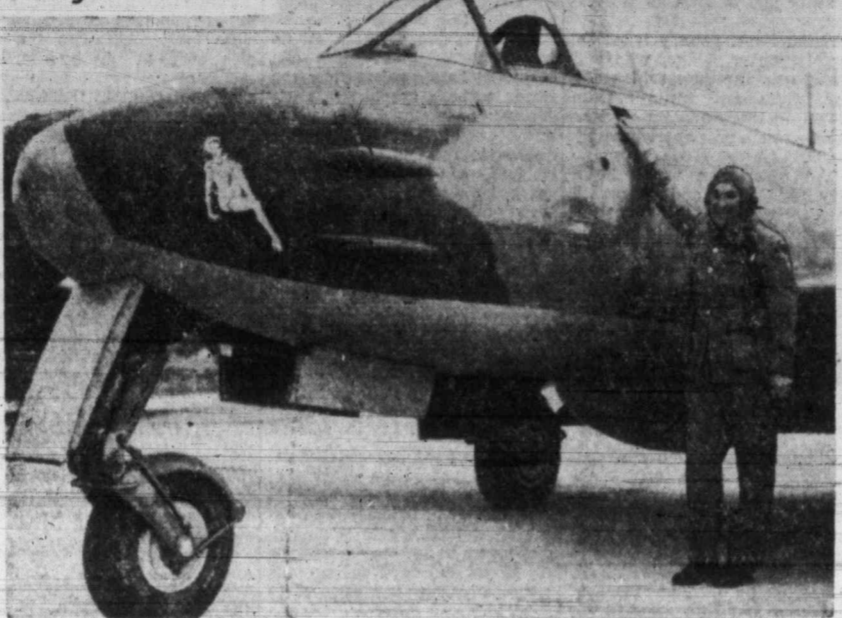

Walter K. Willis, chief of the Dominion government hydrographic service, Pacific coast, said today that William J. Stewart, hydrographic survey vessel, will possibly be sent out this fall to survey the sea floor along Vancouver Island's east coast where several changes took place in the June 23 earthquake.

The Stewart is at present in the Queen Charlotte area on survey duty. Mr. Willis said he was sure she would not be taken off that work now to survey the Parksville to Comox area where the earthquake is reported to have caused the sea floor to drop several feet.

Mr. Willis did not think the changes would create a danger to coastal shipping as far as he had been informed, depths had been made greater.

In the meantime the hydrographic maps will remain as they are. In addition to reports of changes in the Parksville to Comox area, reports have been received of changes at Cowichan Lake where beaches are said to have disappeared, leaving a sharp drop into deep waters, and shallows have become deeper. At the mouth of Cottonwood Creek a drop to a 100-foot depth is reported where a beach once lay, and former shallows at the mouth of Little Shaw Creek are said to have been sounded at 100 feet.

Many Necessities Cost More As U.S. Congress Set For Showdown On Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—People of the U.S. paid more for many necessities of life today as the first week's test of a peacetime free-price economy drew to a close and Congress got set for a showdown on whether to hand the cost control reins back to the Office of Price Administration.

A Washington dispatch said, O.P.A. Administrator Paul Porter had called on Congress today to revise the O.P.A. extension bill still further to bring it into line with President Truman's recommendations.

The bill as amended by the Senate banking committee over the protests of Senator Taft (Rep.-Ohio), Porter said, does not go far enough. He said it contains "undegradable features."

Although some of the nation's major cities and rural areas came through the first few O.P.A.-less days without a noticeable dent in the pocketbook, there was ample indication most of the country has not been so fortunate.

Meat prices all but staged a runaway in a majority of cities, although some industry spokesmen said they were still under black market levels and would begin to ease downward once the long-bare counters were filled again.

Butter and milk costs also spurred upward in a quick getaway, but they were far behind the meat pace. Rent boosts caused turmoil in many places.

However, little or no change in these items was reported from such points as Chicago, Atlanta, Memphis, Columbus, Birmingham, Shreveport and the larger cities of Arkansas, which also had steady price levels in most of the other everyday commodities.

"Meat up" was the reply from almost everywhere—it was up as much as 50 per cent at many points.

Also in an upward spiral were the costs of restaurant meals, hotel accommodation and bread, an Associated Press survey showed.

Speech Of Counsel For Hess Cut Off By Allied Court

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—The War Crimes Tribunal abruptly shut off a defence speech for Rudolf Hess today after his counsel had ignored one warning after another and continued an attack on the Versailles Treaty.

The counsel, Alfred Seidl, was told by the court to rewrite his summary and delete personal opinions about the treaty.

Hess sat stone-faced as the tribunal rebuffed Seidl several times and finally shut him off.

Strikers Meet

VANCOUVER (CP)—Striking Metal and Chemical Workers' Union (C.C.L.) foundrymen have called an open meeting for tonight to discuss their 15-cent wage increase demand. They have invited A.F.L. moulders and machinists "locked out" by the strike, to attend.

Metal workers' headquarters announced today that two of the 33 plants involved had granted the 15-cent increase, and that one had started operations today.

Cleveland Believed To Favor Chlorination; Mayor Gets Report

RELIABLE reports from Vancouver indicate that Dr. E. A. Cleveland, Vancouver water commissioner, who has been one of the main opponents to the continuation of the chlorination of Vancouver water, has stated in a letter to the Victoria City Council that it would be dangerous to discontinue the protective measure here.

Mystery shrouds the exact contents of the letter sent by Dr. Cleveland to Mayor Percy George in answer to an inquiry from Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman of the health board here.

The letter is reputed to have stated that after examining all the reports on the conditions prevailing on Victoria's watershed and the analyses which were carried on this spring of the raw water coming from Goldstream and Sooke, he was of the opinion that it would not be in the interests of public safety to discontinue chlorination here.

Mayor George, who has on several occasions gone on record as opposing chlorination, stated that he could not release the contents of the letter until the health board had considered it. Dr. Hunter, who has been one of the strongest City Council advocates of chlorination, also refused to comment on the report, saying only that the "time is not ripe for any release on the matter."

Dr. Cleveland has always contended in Vancouver that the watershed there is so well protected that the water needs no other purification to make it safe for the city's consumers, but there is no parallel in Victoria's case.

The question of whether or not Victoria water should be chlorinated will again be submitted to the electors at the December election.

Palefaces 'Cheap'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Indians from Alert Bay who said they sacrificed the fishing season to take part in Vancouver's Diamond Jubilee celebrations, are displeased with the treatment they claim they have been receiving. Charges of "cheapness" of the palefaces, and alleged "incompetence" of the jubilee committee are made.

Armored Cars In Poland Suppress Pogrom; 34 Dead

Official Ceremony To Mark Arrival Of Governor-General

Premier John Hart will present an illuminated address of welcome to Viscount and Viscountess Alexander on the steps of the Legislative Buildings following their arrival here July 17.

The Alexanders will arrive aboard a Canadian naval vessel at the C.P.R. docks at 4.15. They will be welcomed to Victoria by Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward, Premier and Mrs. Hart, Mayor and Mrs. Percy George and senior officers of the navy, army and air force.

Presentation of the address will take place immediately after inspection by Viscount Alexander of the guard of honor at the dock. Mayor George will also present an address to the Governor-General.

Following Viscount Alexander's replies the Vice-Regal party will go to the Legislative Chamber where an official reception attended by the public will take place.

Main entrance of the Legislative Buildings will be closed and the public will enter by the east door. After passing through the Legislative Chamber they will leave the buildings by the west door near the Department of Vital Statistics.

The reception will conclude at 6 p.m. when Governor-General and Lady Alexander will go to Government House for their three-day stay.

The Provincial Secretary's office is arranging final details for the reception. Illumination of the address to be presented by Premier Hart is being carried out by the Surveyor-General's branch.

Budget Disappoints Commerce Leader

MONTREAL (CP)—C. Gordon Cookshott, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in a statement today following a meeting of the executive committee, termed the federal budget statement of last week "a bitter disappointment to Canadians after six years of almost confiscatory taxation imposed for the purpose of winning the war."

His statement said the Chamber commends the government for its successful wartime taxation program, but "regrets that the government is not prepared to face the drastic reductions in expenditures that alone will enable it to bring down a budget in keeping with the people's expectations and the necessities of the postwar Canadian requirements."

Weather Forecast

Victoria and Vicinity—Saturday: Variable cloudiness in morning, clear in afternoon; light winds becoming moderate southwesterly in afternoon; warmer in evening. Temperature noon, Friday, 58.
Thursday's Temperatures: Min. 51; Max. 63. Sunshine: 4 hours 48 minutes.

WARSAW (AP)—At least 34 persons were reported today to have been killed and 42 wounded at the city of Kielce in Poland's bloodiest postwar pogrom, which was finally suppressed by government forces in armored cars. Reinforced military units and security police patrolled Kielce's streets.

Anti-Jewish rumors apparently touched off the anti-Semitic outbreak at noon Thursday. One rumor was that a Polish baby had been killed by Jews. Another was that a Polish boy had been kidnapped and held in a cellar two days by a Jew.

Apartments and homes of Jews were attacked by men the government described as "fascist elements." Jews were snatched from streetcars and railway coaches. Mobs struck at the headquarters of the Central Jewish Committee of Kielce, but were repulsed after the Jews had appealed to the security police and militiamen for assistance.

Militia reinforcements sent to Kielce used armored cars. The government clamped down a curfew, effective at 7 p.m. The disorder came as the government announced early returns from the Polish referendum last Sunday had given the government a substantial lead on all three questions it presented. A Foreign Ministry spokesman announced 67 "bandits" had been killed and 308 wounded or arrested in clashes between security police, militia and outlawed bands preceding and during the referendum.

Sixty-five members of the militia and the police also were slain in the clashes, the spokesman said. The complete total of votes is not expected to be compiled before July 12. Voters were polled on Poland's new western boundaries and on the government's nationalization acts, as well as on the question of a one-house legislature.

Building Boom Slowly Coming Back To Normal Since Strike

Building activity in Victoria is slowly returning to the "normal" of before the lumberworkers' strike but greater shortages of two-by-four and shiplap are holding up essential housing and large commercial building projects, a survey of a number of contractors showed today.

Only builders reporting they were not held up by lumber shortages were Victoria Housing Ltd., who are building 150 war-time houses for veterans. However, lack of skilled carpenters on this job is holding up construction seriously, Ald. Edward Williams, managing director of the firm, said.

"We were forced to let out a large percentage of our workmen during the strike because we had no lumber, and now we cannot get them back," he commented. "We are not building nearly as fast as we did before the strike, although our lumber is coming in not too badly."

LITTLE LUMBER

George Wheaton, who is handling the Memorial Arena foundations job, said the lumber situation is almost as bad as it was during the strike. "We are getting so little lumber that we can't get on with any of our work," he reported.

The Sidney Roofing job is held up for lack of lumber to build forms, and the match factory is awaiting finishing lumber needed for its completion.

There is no lumber on hand for forms for Arena foundations either, although Mr. Wheaton hoped he would be able to get it when it is needed two weeks from now. Excavating work has been slowed because a large rock outcropping has been discovered which will require blasting.

URNS DOWN JOBS

He said he now was refusing to start any more housing jobs until he was assured of sufficient supplies to get them completed.

"There is no point in tying up any more of the scarce supplies in houses which we have no hope of completing for a year or more," he commented.

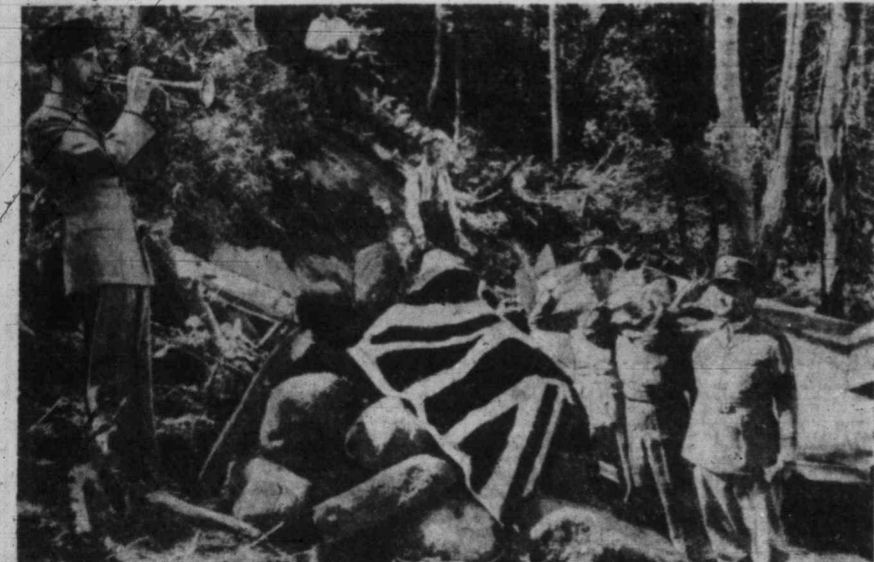

Paine & Townsend reported that their firm was able to get pre-strike supplies of lumber. Flooring and finishing materials are short, this firm reported and at no time for almost two years has it been able to get supplies needed for construction as required.

One contractor blamed the increased shortage on the export situation, saying that 50 to 60 homes under construction had been uncompleted for over a year and that the strike had just delayed the whole program.

Parfitt Construction Co. said that the two-by-four and shiplap situation was much worse than before the strike, and they doubted if it would improve until a new price was set on this type of lumber. They felt that mill owners would not cut the "smaller" dimensions of lumber in any quantity when they could get the price for the larger dimensions.

Housing jobs were the main sufferers so far as this firm was concerned.

Lonely Laurentian Mountain Peak Last Resting Place Of 24 R.C.A.F. Airmen

Last post is sounded at funeral services for 24 Canadian airmen who died in the crash of an R.C.A.F. Liberator atop lonely Black Mountain near St. Donat, Que. Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish chaplains are shown here at salute as the ceremony ended.

Wreath was placed on cairn by Mayor Richard Coult of St. Donat, who, with other members of the town council, took four hours to climb up the mountain to the scene of the crash. The R.C.A.F. decided it would be fitting to bury the airmen beside their wrecked Liberator plane.

Line of hikers is seen entering bush to begin the climb to mountain top. Widow of one airman was unable to make the trip. R.C.A.F. plans to build a trail.

Vocal Concert At Summer School

A delightful concert of vocal music was presented Thursday morning at the Summer School of Education by Viola Morris, soprano, and Victoria Anderson, contralto. This is the fourth appearance of this duo at the Summer School concerts.

Their program was made up of three groups of duets, and each singer also gave a solo group.

First on the program was the difficult Handel "Italian Duet No. 13," which was marked with thoughtfulness and careful interpretation.

Highlight of Miss Anderson's solo group was the Vera Buck setting of G. K. Chesterton's "The Donkey," while Miss Morris shone in Dupare's ethereal setting of Baudelaire's "L'Invitation au Voyage."

This morning Gwendoline Harper, pianist, appeared in recital.

Bishop Cody Honored

The "splendid co-operation" he had received at all times from both clergy and laity was voiced by Most Rev. John C. Cody, Bishop of Victoria, at a farewell dinner held in his honor by the knights of the fourth degree, Knights of Columbus at the Douglas Hotel.

Rev. A. Wood, D.P., O.E.E., paid tribute to the work of Bishop Cody during the nine years of his episcopate in Victoria, and said that in that time the work of the church had been extended on the island.

Bishop Cody, who has been appointed coadjutor bishop of London, Ont., will leave Victoria within a few weeks.

Credit For Sinking Sub Surprises Fliers

OTTAWA (CP)—Partial credit for sinking the only Japanese submarine destroyed off the British Columbia coast during the war came as a surprise to the crew of an R.C.A.F. Bolingbroke bomber, air force headquarters here stated today.

The crew, on a routine shipping patrol from the Annette Island station some four years ago, dropped one 500-pound bomb on a grey shape in the ocean and left the scene, thinking the target might have been a whale.

Later evidence showed the object had been a submarine. They received credit in a British summary this week for the sinking, along with U.S. Coast Guard cutters which also reported attacks.

Island Turkey Breeders Organize To Make Gobblers Best In West

Turkey growers who feel that turkey breeding, incubating and raising, promises to become big business in British Columbia and especially on Vancouver Island, will meet in the Chamber of Commerce July 18, at 7 in the evening, to discuss problems of the industry and to form an association.

W. H. Pope, poultry inspector for Vancouver Island, who will attend the meeting, said today that while few turkeys were grown on the island three years ago, there are now approximately 30,000.

"An association would be a very good thing and growers I have interviewed throughout the island favor such a move," said Mr. Pope.

About 50 growers and breeders, some from as far north as Sandwick expect to be at the meeting.

Teachers' Strike Held Improbable

DUNCAN—Little likelihood of a teachers' "ethical" strike being called in Duncan School District, No. 65, was seen today by an educational authority with knowledge of the local situation.

He stated resignations from the teaching staff had not been abnormally heavy, teachers' salaries compared favorably with those paid in other districts and teacher-trustee relations had in most cases not been unduly strained.

Controversy arose between 51 members of British Columbia Teachers' Federation in Duncan School District, No. 65, and the local school board, over appointment of Col. R. M. Lendrum as supervising principal. Possibility of an "ethical strike" was raised by C. D. Ovans, president of the federation, during a meeting with school trustees.

GOOD PROGRESS IN PARIS

ONLY A FEW DAYS AGO IT BEGAN TO look as if another meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers might end in a stalemate. Russia's representative could not seem to bring himself to agree to anything. Whether the private chats which United States Secretary of State Byrnes arranged with Foreign Commissar Molotov cleared the air and emphasized the implications of certain alternatives to a "Big Four" agreement, or whether the delegate of the Soviet Union suddenly became alarmed at the unfavorable world reaction to his attitude, may be left in the speculative domain. What is important at this juncture is that the Council as a whole has satisfactorily disposed—for the time being, at any rate—of such knotty and delicate problems as the future status of Trieste, the Italian-Yugoslav border, a peace treaty for Italy that will also settle the fate of her former colonies, the return of the Dodecanese Islands to Greece, and sundry other matters such as the payment of Italian reparations to Russia. Even the controversial issue of control of the Danube upon whose internationalization the Soviet Union has darkly frowned—may come under the heading of finished business before the Council concludes its third convocation since it began to operate. The way is now clear for the major task of dealing with Germany and Austria and for the negotiation of peace treaties with the former "associate members" of the once-powerful and now defunct Axis. July 29 is the date set for the 21-power Peace Conference.

Before he left Washington for the current meeting in Paris, Mr. Byrnes categorically stipulated that unless he could obtain an agreement with Britain, the Soviet Union and France to set an early date for a general peace conference, the United States would have no compunction in negotiating separate treaties with the former enemy countries. While such a procedure would have run contrary to the spirit and intent of the wartime understanding between the principal Allies, no other satisfactory alternative seemed worth considering; and Britain obviously had become impatient with interminable delays for which there was little or no justification. With the prospect of such a development relegated to the background, therefore, it should not be too much to expect that the final sessions of the present Paris meeting will proceed in a more mutually co-operative atmosphere than that which had prevailed and was bound to prevail so long as Mr. Molotov persisted in detecting a bogeyman in almost every proposal which emanated from the representatives of the western democracies. By virtue of his newly-acquired accommodating attitude—which obviously reflects a change of heart on the part of the Kremlin—the Foreign Commissar ought to be able to persuade Marshal Stalin that the constant muddying of the international waters by the party press in Moscow is neither good for Russia nor for Russia's profitable association with her former Allies. Journalistic labelling by such newspapers as Pravda and Izvestia of non-Communist countries as Fascist or Fascist-minded is nonsensical and in execrable taste.

NOT SO EASY IN OFFICE

FEW NATIONAL NEWSPAPERS WITH large circulations in Great Britain campaigned more assiduously for the Labor Party's nationalization program in the general election last summer than the London Daily Mirror. Its two million customers were treated to a cumulative dose of Socialist propaganda from the day that platform oratory began until the votes were counted. And on the morning of the victory which Mr. Attlee and his followers won so decisively this popular picture tabloid virtually underwrote all the promises made by the triumphant party. But something seems to have gone wrong. On several occasions recently the Mirror has succumbed to the urge to take the government figuratively over its knee and spank it.

The latest cause of the newspaper's editorial outburst against the ministry at Westminster is its attitude toward the railways—whose increase in fares and freight rates "has come as a great shock." It argues that the mandate to nationalize the railways will be used; but it asks this pointed question: "Are we to understand that this transference from private to public ownership is to make things dearer all round?" Because if this is to be the case, "it stands condemned from the start." Then the Mirror bares its editorial soul with this:

"At the present moment it is temporary it is a great blunder on the government's part not to have said so. Only as such can it be tolerated. The public, which includes the traders of this country, expect two things from nationalization. They expect a better service. They expect cheaper rates. If they do not get them there is no point in nationalization."

There are many aspects of a "planned economy" which its advocates carefully refrain from discussing or explaining. The people of the supposedly Socialistic paradise of New Zealand have discovered this; and they may have something to say about it when they go to the polls in the forthcoming general election down there. What the London Daily Mirror conveniently ignores, however, is the basic fact that Britain's Labor government, having assumed the role of employer in those industries it already has nationalized, must follow precisely the same formula as that to which private interests are compelled to conform. In short, it must balance outgo with income; and every wage increase it grants to the worker must be offset by higher prices for the service it renders. Moreover, since the British Labor Party and its Trade Union supporters are more or less committed to shorter hours and higher pay, something will have to give way to make fulfillment of these promises possible—whether it is in the coal mining industry or transportation.

STILL ANOTHER SNAG

NOW THAT THE AGREEMENT TO LOAN Britain the sum of $3,750,000,000, having passed the Senate at Washington, is before the House of Representatives, 75 members of that august body have issued a statement calling upon the Congress to look after United States war veterans and the aged before making any huge foreign loans. How much of this development should be charged to a new form of solicitude for ex-service personnel and the old people, and how much to the political battle which all the members of the lower chamber must fight at the polls next November, is a postulate upon which it is not within our province to speculate. The argument advanced by nearly one-sixth of the House's membership, however, wittingly or unwittingly, ignores the basic fact that refusal of the loan to Britain might eventually impair our neighbor's economy to such an extent as to add to the difficulty of increasing any of her social services.

It would appear, on the other hand, that many Congressmen and a large number of voters have persuaded themselves that if the loan is approved, the United States will be underwriting what is described as the whole foreign and "imperial" policy of Great Britain. Able internationalist Walter Lippmann notes that these elements are confirmed in this point of view by the very considerable number who favor the loan, "not because it is a necessary measure to restore the economic life of the world in which the United States lives, but because they imagine it is a way of showing their disapproval of the Russians." But lending money to one country to annoy another, in any case, would be kindergarten economics.

From all that can be gleaned from discussions of this financial accommodation, on both sides of the Atlantic, the consensus appears to be that without it, it is altogether likely that the whole British trading community will be driven into a strictly regimented, narrowly restricted, form of government-business. For, after all, the loan is Britain's pledge and the United States' inducement to work her way back from the regimentation of war to a perfect system of freedom. This is such a great object, says Mr. Lippmann, that "it is really very small potatoes to ignore it because we are having post-war political troubles with Mr. Bevin and Mr. Molotov." In the meantime, however, it will be interesting to observe what happens to the new snag which 75 members of the House of Representatives have thrown into the loan discussions.

A STRIKING TRIUMPH

AS A SAMPLE OF THE ARTISTIC potentialities of her citizens, the richness of her floral wealth and the attractiveness of her feminine youth, symbolized by the May Queen and attendant court, the float which Victoria entered in Vancouver's Jubilee parade reached a high point of excellence. To all who contributed to its construction and decoration, particularly the city's foreman carpenter Wm. Carter, the people of this community owe their thanks. The success attained by the entry, which won the grand prize and was judged best of those entered by a municipality, provincial or international body, reflects great credit on Victoria. As a gesture of good will to Vancouver, the float was a triumph. As a medium of publicity, its value will be enhanced by future newsreel showings.

POLITICAL ACTION TECHNIQUE

A SCHOOL FOR POLITICAL ACTION Technique has been opened in Washington, D.C. A cursory examination of the actions of members of Congress in that city would have been regarded as a fairly broad education in politics. If studying the tricks of the trade were the objective of the school, the location for such an institution could hardly be bettered. Lobbyists for every possible pressure group establish their professional headquarters in the United States capital, and the art of government is subjected to continuous scrutiny and publicity. But evidently the technique of political action is concerned not with the practice of government by the people, for the people and of the people, but with the method of political coercion. A "training" institution such as that about to operate indicates an education in power not in consequences. It suggests a highly coached staff with a definite militantly-political purpose.

The average citizen regards his political views as a matter of reasoning. He likes to vote this way or that according to those views. He does not like to be told what he has to think and for what particular purpose he has to take political action when the opportunity offers. So it will be interesting to note the curriculum and the real objective of this new school.

WHAT THE STRIKES COST

IT IS NOW POSSIBLE to reckon up the direct losses of the recent major strikes in the United States. The indirect losses, in the form of increased prices and living costs, are beyond reckoning yet.

To begin with, strikers lost $1,050,000,000 in wages. But wage losses were much greater than this because the strikers threw out of work many workers who were not on strike. The coal strike alone affected 400,000 coal miners and made idle 1,000,000 other persons in various industries. No figure covering the total loss of wages has yet been estimated.

Strikers lost 113,305,000 days of work. To them must be added the time lost by other workers as a direct result of strikes but this total is unknown.

THE LOSS OF WAGES and time by strikers, and non-strikers reflected itself in loss of goods for the public at large. The output of steel was reduced by 11,400,000 tons through strikes and diminished steel supplies affected many industries which require steel. The nation as a whole lost two months' steel production. So far as steel is concerned, a sixth of the year has been thrown away.

About 113,000,000 tons of bituminous coal was lost through the strikes and shortage of coal affected the output of many industries. Coal being one of the key shortages of the world, holding up reconstruction nearly everywhere, the reduction in American coal output was a disaster of first magnitude not only to the United States but to the world. Canada is one of its chief immediate victims. Canadians will feel the results of the strike next winter.

STRIKES CAUSED the loss of 3,150,000,000 board feet of lumber, five weeks' production. Part of the loss was lumber enough to build 98,000 houses. Those houses have yet to be built. The whole rehousing program has been postponed in the United States, as it has been largely postponed in Canada as a result of the British Columbia lumber strike.

Strikes also cost the United States 2,900,000 automobiles and trucks. The automobile industry reckons that various disturbances in its own plants and in subsidiary industries are equivalent to a six-months' shutdown in a normal year. Half a year has thus been lost already in making good the present acute shortage of motor vehicles.

Washing machine losses are 415,000 units—the equivalent of 11 weeks of prewar production. Losses in electrical ranges are 95,000. Thousands of smaller items of production were affected.

ALL THESE LOSSES, of course, touch the strikers as well as the public at large for strikers are consumers, and they cannot consume goods that are not produced. Strikers and other workers must jointly accept the major and continuing loss of higher prices which have followed higher wages. These prices must be paid by everyone but the chief victims will be the great unorganized mass of white collar workers and the people living on pensions and savings. For the average worker the rise in living costs is simply a cut in wages.

The most depressing and ironical result of the strikes is that they have retarded the time when stable prices may be expected. That time will come when industry is able to achieve full production and satisfy public demand.

FULL PRODUCTION was postponed by strikes and the shortages of goods, thus exaggerated, increases the pressure for higher prices which cancel out all wage gains. Strikes have proved one of the major factors in inflation and many unions are prepared to strike again, to recoup themselves for rises in the cost of living already produced by wage increases—the old, familiar and futile spiral.

Letters To The Editor

DESTITUTE PEOPLE

I have just received a letter from N. B. Matta, of the Oriental Humane Education Association, Merjayoun, Lebanon, concerning the destitution of the people who need food and clothing badly. This organization works in Syria, Lebanon, Palestine, and Transjordan.

I am aware that many of us have given our used articles to the various drives for clothing for Europe and may have little left, but if these people could be included in any distribution that would benefit them, I feel that it would be highly appreciated.

CABBAGES, ETC.

In these days of strikes for higher wages, I thought it might be of interest to the general public to know something of what the farmer has to take for his produce. My son decided last July to put in some spring cabbage and he hauled water, hoed and worked very hard indeed to get the young plants. Then in due course he planted them out—in all half an acre of beautiful cabbage. When they reached maturity I tried to market them, and if anyone doubts any statement I make they can verify it by looking up the correspondence I have had with the Marketing Board.

First of all, the Marketing Board didn't handle them until a certain date, and I was informed there was none coming in, which I knew was contrary to fact. However, to make a long story short, I this morning received $1.45 in cash for five crates of spring cabbage through the legitimate channels—200 pounds of some of the nicest cabbage grown for $1.45.

If someone could inform me why I would be greatly relieved. I phoned the wholesale firm who handled them and among other things he said: "If the growers would only ask us what to grow we would be glad to tell them. We don't want spring cabbage, but we can take all the hard cabbage, asparagus and early potatoes you can grow."

To which I replied: "Then you must admit that the Chinese and wholesalers control the vegetable business in Victoria." To which he said: "Not the wholesalers." But I have yet to receive more information before I change my views.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

When the representatives of Britain and the United States went to Paris June 15 for what Foreign Minister Bevin described as "one last effort" to reach some sort of accord with Russia on European peace, they were no too hopeful.

A similar meeting a few weeks before, like the one in London which preceded it, had broken apart on the rocks of Russian intransigence.

Then, one by one, things began to happen. Although the problems of Germany underlay everything, a peace treaty for Italy—involving disposition of her colonies, Russian demands for handholds in the Mediterranean and Trieste—was the most immediate problem.

Suddenly Russia agreed that: The Dodecanese Islands should be returned to Greece, Britain should take the colonies under a kind of mandate pending final settlement, Trieste should remain under the United Nations for a time. An agreement on control of the Danube seems to be approaching.

In return, Russia got the reparations she had been demanding from Italy, but conceded that payment should not start for two years.

That the result is a jerrybuilt house none can deny. The 21 powers which will meet July 29 to ratify the various treaties which the foreign ministers have negotiated will find themselves working on "stopgap legislation." But the mere fact that the ministers have agreed on anything at all marks a tremendous stride.

It is too early to say everything will run smoothly from now on. Unless the Soviets give up the idea that western ways are a threat to their existence, which must be eliminated, the life of any accord must be comparatively short.

The Hurricane Season Commences

By CHARLES MOLONY
WASHINGTON — Hurricanes in the United States cause fewer deaths than they did earlier in the century, the Weather Bureau stated as the hurricane season—got under way this year.

In the 20-year period from 1926 through 1945, the bureau says, hurricanes caused 3,368 "known deaths" and damage estimated at about $750,000,000. In the first five-year period, from 1926 to 1930, there were 161 fatalities for each $10,000,000 loss. In the second five-year period—this figure was reduced to $1; in the third, 26, and in the last five years it has been cut to four.

The bureau attributed the reduced casualty rate chiefly to improvement in its own hurricane warning service, but it also gave credit to the Red Cross for its advance preparations, to the Coast Guard for its rescue work, to the Army and Navy for airplane reconnaissance, and to radio stations, newspapers and telephone and telegraph companies for their dissemination of warnings.

During the 73 years since the warning service was inaugurated, 67 major hurricanes have caused 16,000 deaths, more than 80 per cent from drowning.

Most disastrous was the Galveston, Texas, hurricane and tidal wave of September 8, 1900, in which 6,000 perished. An Atlantic coast hurricane in August, 1893, took 2,000 lives, and in October of the same year a Louisiana-Mississippi hurricane caused 1,300 deaths.

The worst hurricane in recent years was the one which struck Florida in September, 1928, taking a toll of more than 1,500. On an average, about seven tropical storms occur annually in the North Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean Sea, but only about half of them reach hurricane intensity.

Only about one in four of the hurricanes approaches close enough to the U. S. Atlantic and Gulf coasts to cause much damage.

Mass evacuation from coastal areas—as many as 50,000 persons at one time—have saved many lives in recent years.

The Weather Bureau reports: "Contrary to common belief, hurricanes start as the result of the creation of a circular wind system over a large area, usually involving thousands of square miles, and not in the form of small whirlwinds or waterspouts.

"Some of these cyclonic disturbances develop quickly into violent tropical storms. Others increase in force much more slowly. Many become no more than mild wind systems with unsettled weather.

"One of the commonest breeding grounds for tropical storms is the belt of the doldrums in the southern Atlantic Ocean and in that part of the Western Caribbean Sea where the Pacific 'doldrum' belt extends.

"The circular winds within a hurricane often maintain a wind velocity of 75 to 100 miles an hour for five minutes or more, and sometimes the velocity rises to 125 and 150 miles an hour.

"The progressive movement of a hurricane system averages only about 12 miles an hour in the tropics. However, the speed often increases as the storm enters the more northerly latitudes and sometimes reaches 40 to 50 miles an hour."

Cecil Solly Says:

PRACTICALLY every food garden this year is paying careful attention to the tomato crop realizing that it is quite easy to have ripe fruits earlier and in larger quantities if the correct culture is adopted.

TO SET FRUIT

Did it ever occur to you to wonder why the tomato flower stems are shorter than the leaf stems? When tomatoes are severely pruned and many of the leaves removed, the natural shade which they would supply to their own flowers, is lost.

Tomato blossoms are very sensitive when exposed to the hot afternoon sun and often fail to set because of this lack of natural shade. Generally the first blossoms drop for this reason of exposure.

If possible, place the stakes on the west side of each tomato plant. Even the small amount of shade cast by the stake will make a noticeable difference in the number of fruits which set on each truss or plant.

SHADE THE FLOWERS

Here is a success story from a man in Olympia that you can easily copy.

"I had staked and pruned my tomatoes, but, although full blossoms, they did not form tomatoes.

"I cut some large fan-shaped fir boughs and hung them so as to keep the hot sun off them. The result was wonderful. The boughs were left on about two weeks. I now have the nicest tomatoes I have ever raised. I have counted 23 tomatoes on one branch."

In this climate we experience a great fluctuation of temperature from day to night, at a time when the first flower buds are ready to set fruit.

When buds drop off, the net result is a beautiful but fruitless vine. The flowers on any tomato plant are quite capable of setting other.

To set fruit... shake the flower clusters during the warmest hour of the day. This shaking helps dislodge the pollen and spreads it onto the other flowers.

A most effective way to set every flower on your tomato plants is to do the work by artificial means, that is by using the plant hormone spray method.

Tests have proved that these hormones, when sprayed on each group of flowers as they open, will not only set every flower on the stem but in almost every case the fruits are solid meat and entirely seedless.

LEAF-PRUNING

Leaf-pruning consists of removing about half the heavy leaves to allow the sun and air to reach the centre of the plant. Remove all leaves that shade any fruit, but only after the fruit has set properly.

Pruning of the side branches must necessarily be left to the judgment of the gardener. Generally it is unwise to prune at all until several groups (trusses) of fruit have set. Then the superfluous vine growth should be pinched out or cut off when it is small.

Sucker and vine growths start from a junction of leaf and stem. The branches which bear flowers and fruit are separate and appear from the stem midway between two leaf growths.

The sucker shoots which start from low down the stem, below the first "truss" of fruit, should be removed as soon as they appear in mid-season.

The best "system" to use is to avoid pruning (other than removal of "suckers") until after the fruit has set. Since the fruit sets on the trusses at about one week intervals, each above the other, it is wise to remove leaves at like intervals, always after the fruit has set, to let in the air and sunlight.

Many gardeners use one large

'Y' Building Expert Will Survey Sites

Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Victoria Y.M.C.A., has been advised that a schedule has been arranged for the visit to Victoria, on Aug. 23, of John W. Ogg, senior secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Building Bureau in New York, to plan for a new building.

Mr. Ogg will make a thorough survey involving a possible site, type, and cost of the building and will report to the boards of directors. The Victoria Community Chest, earlier in the year, gave the go-ahead signal to a campaign to provide a new structure to replace the present "Y" building.

The second property, located in the Cowichan district at the southeast corner of Koksilah Road and Parker Road, contains approximately 26 acres of land of which half is under cultivation and the balance is timbered or partly cleared.

Among priority passengers aboard the Queen Mary was Admiral H. R. Stark, former United States navy chief in European waters, and Mrs. Stark.

Admiral Stark was returning from Britain, where he received an honorary degree at Oxford University.

Quiet Wedding Held In Chapel

A quiet ceremony performed on the evening of June 28 in the chapel of the Peace of God, by Bishop H. E. Sexton, united Frances Newbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Carlson, Cadillac Avenue, and Albert Entwistle, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Entwistle, 1160 Vista Heights.

The bride was given away by her father and chose a two-piece, afternoon frock of pink crepe with white hat trimmed with pink and blue flowers on the halo-brim. She carried a round bouquet of pink roses and blue delphiniums.

Mrs. T. D. Carney, the bride's only attendant, was attired in a turquoise blue afternoon frock with flower hat to match, white accessories and corsage bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis. Leslie Entwistle supported his brother.

A small reception for relatives was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. For a honeymoon motor trip in Washington State, via Vancouver, the bride donned a chocolate brown dressmaker suit with white hat and accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Entwistle will reside at 237 Wildwood Avenue.

Summer Program Planned By Pythian Sisters

Island Temple, No. 8, Pythian Sisters, held their regular meeting recently in the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street, with Sister Dora Elliott presiding.

The Pythian Sister degree was conferred on one candidate.

Sister Vera Barry, P.C., general convener of the fall bazaar, reported on the progress being made and asked that members lend their homes for sewing bees during July and August as the Temple will be closed during these two months.

Sister A. Dunkeld, Cedar Hill Road, has offered her home and grounds for a picnic on July 12. Sister Ethel Cummins, North Road, has offered her home for a picnic on July 17 and Sister Dora Elliott will be sewing bee hostess at her home on Dupplin Road on July 25.

Sub-Debs Copy Pretty Coiffure

Young things casting about for a new hair-do that will take a bathing with as much grace as it takes a bejeweled headband for party wear might end their search with one which copies the pretty coiffure worn by Princess Elizabeth.

The tricks for copying it can be learned from Fred Paul, New York stylist, who reproduced her hair-do for young models to sport. Part your hair on the side and in the wide front section set a deep wave—when brushed out it dips over the forehead and short ringlets. The opposite front section is set with matching ringlets.

Back hair is also put up in loose ringlets, which can be worn that way or brushed out to make a fluffier bob.

Nutritionists Plan Study Of School Meal Program

TORONTO.—Attracting international interest is the first intensive long-range study ever made under controlled conditions of the effect of a school meal program on the health and efficiency of a large group of school children, which will be initiated in the fall by the National Nutrition Department of the Canadian Red Cross, under the chairmanship of Dr. F. F. Tisdall.

Health and nutritional authorities of the Canadian, British and United States governments, it was stated, had expressed their interest and desire to participate in this study and Dr. Tisdall is calling an international conference in the autumn for extensive discussion of the whole plan.

"The purpose of this long-term pilot study," said Dr. Tisdall, "is to obtain scientifically accurate information on this subject and to apply this information for the betterment of the health of school children not only in Canada but throughout the world."

FEED 200 CHILDREN

During the pilot study period the Canadian Red Cross will feed a group of 200 children who will be given extensive physical and dental examinations at the beginning of the study and will be measured at the end of two years against the control group of children. If hoped-for results are obtained, this study will be extended to a number of points across Canada.

The Department of National Health and Welfare of the Dominion Government has offered its co-operation in this undertaking. Sir Wilson Jameson, chief medical officer of health for Great Britain, has stated that the proposed study is of great interest to him and he will send one of his top men to sit in with the committee in the fall when the study is in progress.

Dr. F. G. Boudreau, chairman of the food and nutrition board of the National Research Council, Washington, D.C., stated that the board would send Dr. Russell Wilder as its representative.

Dr. Glen King of the nutrition section of the American Red Cross will attend and bring with him Miss Melva Bakke and other officers particularly interested in the project.

"The interest and help of these delegates will be invaluable to the Canadian Red Cross in this work," Dr. Tisdall declared.

Nurses Recommend Aides Be Trained

TORONTO (CP).—The Canadian Nurses' Association at the closing session of its convention today, recommended that immediate steps be taken to train nurses aides to work in hospitals, with a view to alleviation of the present acute shortage of nurses across Canada.

The association urged that representative committees be formed for the purpose of studying the problem. Included would be representatives of the nursing and medical professions, hospital administration and hospital associations, and provincial government departments.

Because the educational requirements for admission to schools of nursing in Canada vary in the different provinces, and the requirements of some schools do not meet university matriculation standards, the assembly urged that educational credentials of applicants be appraised by an authoritative educational body.

NEARLY-GROWN CHILDREN

Dear Miss Dix: I have four boys almost grown. They go out almost every night without telling where they are going or whom they are going with, and I do not think that this is a thing to permit. We feel that our children should respect us enough to tell us about everything they do. Don't you think children owe something to their mother and father?

DISTRESSED PARENTS

Answer: Of course, children owe a great deal to their parents, but if you want to collect the debt you must go about it in the right way, and that is something that fathers and mothers rarely consider. Instead of diplomatically suggesting to their children that they might pay a little something on the long account of love and tenderness and food and clothes and education that they have been running up with their parents ever since they were born, the parents hold them up with the gun of duty leveled at their heads, and this makes the boys and girls feel like evading the obligation altogether.

Use a little intelligence in dealing with your boys and you will perceive the folly of asking nearly grown children where they are going every time they put off their hats to leave the house. If they are going to a perfectly proper place, and they probably are, and to meet the kind of people you wish to associate with, what difference does it make whether they are gone to the Smiths or the Browns or the church social? And if they are going somewhere they should not go and to meet the people you don't want them to meet, you will merely make them lie to you by questioning them.

Try to understand that their resentment at being put through a questionnaire about their movements is nothing but a gesture of protest against being treated as children. It is no sign they are up to dark, wicked deeds. Imitate the example of the woman I knew who said that when her boys were growing up she chewed off half an inch of her tongue keeping herself from asking them where they were going and when they would get back.

LONDON (Reuter).—German children in the North Rhine province of the British zone of Germany have received 1,638,000 meals since last February from "Pacific packs," originally designed for British and Indian fighting troops in the Pacific theatre. British authorities reported today. The packs are supplied by the Swedish, Irish and Swiss Red Cross.

"Picobac is super"

"Yes, in the language of the boys it's 'super' because Picobac is a cool, slow-burning smoke, with few light-ups, and no 'dottle.' Like most pipe smokers, I've made the rounds — smoked almost every brand; but for me Picobac is the best 'fill' of them all."

Blind Enjoy Holiday At Sunshine Camp

Seventeen sightless men and women are enjoying a 10-day holiday at the Sunshine Camp, under sponsorship of the Community Chest.

Campers rise at 7:30, and have breakfast at 8:20. A walk in the morning, swimming, boating, tea and handicraft work in the afternoon and entertainment including community singing at night, are part of the camp routine.

"It is a very happy camp, this week," commented W. H. Davies, who visited the campers.

Special fire fighting equipment including oil drums and stirrup pumps has been installed. Fire drills have been held. The staff of nine under the supervision of Miss Sheila Carlisle, group worker, includes Miss Stella Munby, nurse; Miss Catherine Whiteside, recreation leader; assisted by Miss Margaret Clapp and Miss Ione Jacklin; Mrs. Lilian MacMillan, cook, assisted by Miss Mary Butters, Miss Marcelline Darnelle and Miss Wendy Wood.

Vacation Club In Action At Y.M.C.A.

Forty boys between the ages of 10 to 15 are enrolled for the annual Y.M.C.A. vacation club program from July 2 to July 10. Conducting the club is Peter Spence, boys' work secretary of the local organization.

The program takes in morning and afternoon events held either in the "Y" building or outdoors. Friday afternoon there will be a hike to Forge Park, where fast ball will be played. Moving pictures are billed for Saturday morning. There will be an all-day picnic at Thetis Lake Monday, and the club will windup its activities with a morning swim party Wednesday, followed by a sports program, opening at 1:30, at Victoria High School grounds.

Mr. Spence reports that he cannot accept any more names for the first 1946 boys' camp at the Y.M.C.A. Camp Thunderbird, Glitz Lake, Sooke, because "we are booked to the limit." This camping period is from July 19 to 29 for boys aged 10 to 12. There are still a few opening left for the second camp for boys 10 to 17 years of age, from July 21 to Aug. 9.

Holland Souvenir Book Highly Praises Canadian Soldiers

Designed as a gift from the people of Holland to "their Canadian liberators," a souvenir book has been published and will be available to Canadian troops who fought through the Netherlands when that country was liberated.

Entitled "Holland and the Canadians," the book was published by the Canada-Netherlands Committee in Amsterdam. It is a literary and photographic record depicting the picturesque country prior to the war, the terrible conditions under the Nazis iron heel that led to gradual pauperization of the people, starvation and suffering during the cold war winters, scenes of underground resistance in the face of death and finally the entry of Canadians in the role of liberators and the enthusiastic reception they were given by the natives.

In the neighborhood of 43,000 copies have been allotted to Canada, not enough to provide copies for every Canadian soldier who saw service in Holland. Army Public Relations officers are having distribution of the priority of requests received, with special allocations to units in each province with service records in the Netherlands.

Canadian Legion and Army and Navy Veterans branches will accept applications for copies from members who served in Holland, as will active and reserve army units. Veterans are advised to apply to their veterans' organization or old unit. Those unable to obtain the books through these sources may apply by mail to P.R.O., Headquarters, M.D. 11, Vancouver, or in person at the photo exhibit at the Seaford Armories in Vancouver, closing July 13.

Distribution to air force personnel is being handled separately by R.C.A.F. Public Relations. In the forward, high tribute is paid the Canadian Army which "won great glory by its courage and self-denial and filled the hearts of our people with everlasting gratitude."

Balmoral House Making Profit

Balmoral House, which was turned into a hostel for veterans' families two months ago, is keeping out of the red and showing a comfortable credit balance, according to a financial statement submitted to Mayor Percy George.

The city undertook to guarantee operating losses up to $2,000 when the Citizen's Rehabilitation Committee took over the former service girls' hostel to ease the housing shortage among exservice personnel. At the present time more than 40 families are housed there.

Between May 15 and June 14 receipts were $1,575.25 and expenses totaled $1,343.56, leaving a credit balance for the month of $231.69. The organization now has a total credit balance of $386.17.

Mayor George congratulated the management on their excellent work in housing the families without suffering financial loss.

116 Rotary Clubs In Operation Again

Of 508 Rotary International clubs suspended because of the war, 116 have been rehabilitated to date, Percy B. Scurrah, past international director and a past president of the local club, told a Rotary luncheon in the Empress Hotel grill room Thursday.

Subject of Mr. Scurrah's talk was the recent Rotary International convention at Atlantic City. Forty clubs were represented and met in a convention hall which has a capacity of 32,000. Statement of one speaker that isolationism was dead and that countries must co-operate with one another, set the keynote for the convention, Mr. Scurrah said.

Doukhobors Refuse To Elect Trial

NELSON (CP) — When four Doukhobors refused in County Court here Thursday to elect type of trial they wanted, Judge H. W. Colgan committed them to trial by a jury in the B.C. Supreme Court. They will be tried at the fall assizes unless they decide to elect for speedy trial.

The four—Mary Lazaroff, Vera Zbitniff, Zahar Barisoff and George Soukoreff—were charged with damaging a typewriter and a door at the Community Hall in Brilliant, B.C., owned by the Spiritual Communities of Christ, one branch of the Doukhobor religious sect.

When asked which type of trial they wished to elect, Soukoreff said: "We will leave that to those who betrayed us."

TOKYO (AP) — Three former guards at a Tokyo prison camp were named today as war criminals on charges that they beat

Lt. Col. Oscar Orr, head of the Canadian war crimes liaison detachment, will prosecute the three, Toshitsugu Yamanaka, Te Shabata and Kensako Baba. The legal section also charged former Sgt. Akira Takeshita with torturing 100 non-combatant Filipinos and murdering 16 others.

The DOCTOR Says:

QUICK ACTION MAY PREVENT CANCER DEATHS.

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

More than 150,000 persons died of cancer in the United States last year, one-third of them from accessible growths which could have been destroyed or removed before they spread. Two-thirds of the deaths were not preventable, in the present state of our knowledge, as they resulted from inaccessible growths which could not be destroyed or removed.

Cancer begins when a single cell goes wild and grows without restraint. Many irritants start cells growing abnormally, especially in certain locations of the body.

A common irritant which causes cancer is the ultra-violet ray of sunlight, which affects the skin cells of persons who are constantly exposed in outdoor occupations. Cancer of the skin is rare in women and in men who work indoors.

CAUSES OF MOUTH CANCER

Cancer of the mouth follows prolonged cheek or tongue irritation from a rough, ragged tooth or a poorly fitting dental plate.

Buyo cheek cancer, a Philippine Island disease, is caused by chewing bryo and lime.

In some countries the natives smoke cigarettes with the burning ends in their mouths, and that practice frequently results in mouth cancer.

Shepherds in India develop skin cancer from the irritation of the skin of the abdomen and thighs by the kangri basket, a small vessel containing burning charcoal which they carry next to their bodies to keep them warm.

Tar cancer is observed on the hands of workers with tar, and it can be produced experimentally in animals. Extracts of tar have been developed by chemists which are capable of producing cancer through irritation of the skin or the organs.

Application of tar to the skin as a medicine is not to be confused with the irritation which results from occupational exposure.

CANCER WARNING SIGNS

Signs warning of cancer are a sore which does not heal, a lump which develops or one which starts to grow after it has been present for some time, bleeding from a body cavity, indigestion (especially in persons who have never had stomach trouble before) and change of bowel habit.

Half of the patients who report to physicians conditions which they think may mean cancer do not have the disease.

But those who stay away from their doctors because they are afraid they may have cancer throw away their only chance of cure, if the growth is malignant.

BADGERS ARE BUILT LOW TO THE GROUND

"If you want to be a Badger, just come along with me!"

Those are words in a song which is popular with students at the University of Wisconsin. Members of Wisconsin athletic teams have the nickname of Badgers, and the same name is used for people of the state in general.

We might expect that the animals known as badgers would be very common in Wisconsin, but the fact is otherwise. The state has some of the animals, but many more of them live in other places. They range from Kansas and New Mexico across the plains and up into Saskatchewan. Middle western states have them in small numbers.

In early days many miners from eastern states traveled to southwestern Wisconsin to work in lead mines. In winter these men would halt their work and would spend their days and nights in cabins. Their friends from Illinois were in the custom of going home in November or December, and gave the nickname of "badgers" to those who stayed near the mines and "holed up like badgers." That reason is given for Wisconsin being called "the Badger state."

The animals known as badgers are "built low to the ground." They are about 28 inches long, counting the short tails. Their legs are very short, but they have large, strong feet.

The feet of badgers are used in digging holes. They are fast diggers. Here is an account of one digging operation:

"The badger was digging out a ground squirrel, and the earth was flying out a little at a time. The animal sensed my footsteps and changed his rate of work. A rumbling noise came out of the hole and geyser of earth leaped up four or five feet. In a very short time the badger was so deep that no more earth reached the surface."

The food of badgers is made up largely of ground squirrels, prairie dogs, gophers, rats and mice. Because they help to rid the world of these "pests," they are looked upon as valuable.

Badgers keep out of the way of people as much as possible. Yet they are brave fighters. When cornered by dogs, they strike back and hold their own very well.

Tourist Industry Must Step Up Promotion At End Of Next Season

The B.C. Government Travel Bureau warned today possibly beginning at the end of next season British Columbia will have to step up promotion to secure tourists.

The bureau's field representative said today that it was his belief that whatever happened to the U.S. economy, whatever the competition, British Columbia's future in the travel industry was assured so long as standards were maintained and the Canadian cost of living and dollar value has the same relation to the U.S. dollar as obtained today.

"Our first-class resorts will always be attractive," he said. "I do believe, however, that possibly beginning at the end of next season, our promotions will have to be stepped up somewhat to meet the competition of European and Pacific attractions and the increased investment in the industry below the line; and that in the slow-up following the present boom, operators will have to pay more attention to the travel agents."

He said hotels and resorts in many instances have decided that they can get all the business they want without paying agency commissions.

"I say these instances are short-sighted because the time will come again, and soon, when the established agent will be a more important part of the sales setup than he is, necessarily, today."

The bureau's "News Letter" advised:

"If you are running a first-class resort, if you believe in paying commission to recognized agents, if you desire or would like assistance, send 50 of your

75 Tourist Camps Under Construction

E. G. Rowbottom, deputy minister of trade and industry, reported today 75 new tourist camps are now under construction in British Columbia. At the present time, he reported, more than 600 camps are in operation.

While most of the camps on the coast are booked up, he said, accommodation is still available at dude ranches and resorts in the interior. These camps rely on both domestic and American tourists for their trade.

$47,789 Lowest Tender For Bridge Substructure

Lowest tender for construction of the substructure of the Elk River Bridge at Fernie was submitted to the provincial works department here today by Highway Construction Co. Ltd., $47,789.80.

Only other tender submitted was that of General Construction Co. Ltd., $58,736.40.

The tenders were opened by Public Works Minister E. C. Carson at noon today. Both tenders are Vancouver firms.

City Interested In Buying Land For Airport Site

Mayor Percy George has wired War Assets Corporation stating the city is definitely interested in the purchase of the 37.5 acres of naval property in the Gordon Head airport site, after a consultation with members of the Victoria Airport Committee.

Ald. B. J. Gadsden, chairman of the Greater Victoria committee, has called a meeting for next Tuesday to discuss the whole matter.

Ald. Gadsden said he doubted that purchase of the tract of land would entail any substantial financial outlay as it is War Assets Corporation's practice to sell to municipalities for an estimated 8 per cent of the value of the property.

The matter will also come up for discussion at Monday's City Council meeting.

Under provincial law it will be possible for the four municipalities of Greater Victoria to enter into joint ownership of the airport site, which also includes Gordon Head military camp and the Hudson's Bay Company property.

The Hudson's Bay Company was asked some time ago to set a price on the property, and has given the city the option of first refusal in the event of sale.

The S.P.C.A. has written the City Council requesting that no concession be granted to have ponies at Thetis Lake this summer.

Esquimalt C.C.F. District Council will hold its annual picnic at Goldstream Falls July 14, starting at 2. Col. Cameron, C.C.F. provincial president, will be the guest speaker.

A recommendation that a grant of $250 be made to the Conquer Cancer Fund by the City Council will be made to Monday's meeting, Ald. Edward Williams, finance committee chairman, said today.

Final meeting of the May 24 central celebration committee was held at the City Hall Thursday evening. F. M. Hunter, chairman, was praised for his untiring efforts, and congratulations were extended to all who assisted.

Convicted in Saanich Police Court Thursday on a dangerous driving charge, Robert Chambers was fined $40 and received two months' suspension of his driver's license. The charge arose from an accident on Gorge Road, June 29.

Sale of 14 city-owned lots for $3,646 will be recommended to Monday's City Council. Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the lands and zoning committee, announced following a meeting Thursday. Five of the sales are to veterans.

Believed to be the work of juveniles, the office of the Commercial Towel and Linen Supply Company, 2663 Douglas Street, was broken into through a rear window and ransacked Thursday night, police reported. Nothing was believed to have been stolen.

Three letters of congratulations came to Mayor Percy George from mayors in the United States who visited Victoria on "Victoria Day," during the recent conference of the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities in Vancouver. Mayor George said that he felt the publicity value of the day's entertainment offered the mayors was inestimable.

The consolidation of school districts in the province under the Cameron Report will require new voting regulations and membership for the various boards, Ald. Mulliner said, and this will probably occasion one of the main discussions at the convention.

H. L. Campbell, chief inspector of schools, will give an address to the convention on pre-primary classes, and Dr. George Webb, Minister of Education, has also been invited to attend.

DDT Forest Spraying Canceled By Service

Workman Pinned Beneath House

J. T. Machie, 504 Sturdee Street, an employee of Heaney's Ltd. cartage company, was reported to be in fair condition at Jubilee Hospital today after receiving a possibly broken back when pinned underneath a house he was helping to move at Cordova Bay Thursday.

Machie, painfully injured, was rushed to hospital by Saanich police, in charge of Sgt. Cecil Pearce.

Police said the workman was pinned beneath a small house owned by Tim Allen when the building slipped off a jack. The house was being raised in preparation for its removal to a new location. It had to be raised again before Machie could be released.

School Boards Will Amend Constitution

Constitution of the B.C. Trustees' Association will have to be amended at the next convention in September, Ald. F. C. Mulliner, president of the association, said today on his return from attending an executive meeting in Vancouver.

The consolidation of school districts in the province under the Cameron Report will require new voting regulations and membership for the various boards, Ald. Mulliner said, and this will probably occasion one of the main discussions at the convention.

H. L. Campbell, chief inspector of schools, will give an address to the convention on pre-primary classes, and Dr. George Webb, Minister of Education, has also been invited to attend.

Courtenay Teachers Seek $19,835 In Wage Increases

COURTENAY—Increases for 60 teachers amounting to $19,835 annually over the present salaries is being sought by the Comox District Branch of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, to make the salary scale uniform throughout District 71.

The request was discussed at a recent board meeting in Courtenay High School, but was laid over until after the council meeting Wednesday night.

"The scale set in the Cameron Report was very fair, but this application is altogether too much," Trustee W. E. Mantle said, suggesting that for the remainder of the year, the salaries remain as they had been.

He felt the teachers would co-operate with the board for the next few months until they could see how the Cameron Report was going to work out.

Another trustee stated that if the board is not sure that it can

Paintings From National Gallery At Little Centre

Representing a cross-section of Canadian painting, 26 works from the National Gallery will go on display at the Little Centre, 965 Yates Street, July 9. The exhibition will continue until July 30.

Mark Kearley, chairman of the Vancouver Island region of the Federation of Canadian Artists, said today the paintings were all by contemporary artists. The collection, he said, represented "what our own Canadian artists are thinking and painting in these times in which we live."

"For that reason alone," he added, "the people of Victoria should see the pictures which belong to all the people of Canada and have been bought with their money."

School Maintenance Work Proceeding

Renovation, redecoration and repairing of Greater Victoria schools is proceeding satisfactorily, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, said today. During the summer workers' strike it was feared sufficient materials might not be obtainable to do much of the work, but the end of the strike has cleared this situation.

R. H. Smith, building and grounds superintendent, reported work on the five new pre-primary classes, including the benches and furniture, is virtually completed.

The redecoration and renovation program at Quadra Street North and Burnside Schools will be completed before school opening.

Other schools being redecored are Oak Bay High School and Monterey School.

Oaklands stucco annex is being completely rewired, and modern lighting fixtures installed. New playing fields are being graded and seeded at Willows and Monterey Schools, and considerable work will be done on the grounds of other schools in the area within the next few months.

Suggest Roping Off Streets For Play

The board of directors of the Greater Victoria Recreation Council met in the Eagles' Hall Thursday and reports of the conference on community centres and recreation, held at U.B.C., were given by Dr. Henrietta Anderson and Mrs. C. Buhlin.

A letter from the Welfare Council was read, welcoming the new organization to membership, and stating the addition of the group would strengthen the coming Community Chest drive.

It was decided to send letters to the playground committees of Greater Victoria districts, suggesting that certain streets be roped off for free play, especially in the early evening hours when playgrounds are not supervised.

City Playgrounds Having Best Year

The city's supervised playgrounds are having their most successful season in their history, W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, reported today.

Average attendance of children at Central Park is 300 daily. A second record for attendance was chalked up today when the boys' swimming classes opened with 225 boys at the Crystal Garden.

The teachers tried to "jump the salary scale, too much the whole of the new system would be condemned by the ratepayers."

E. R. G. Richardson, principal of Courtenay High, was informed that it was not the policy of the board to offer any free tuition in the senior matriculation class as the "fee ($75) was very low."

Mr. Richardson had suggested that free tuition fees be granted to some pupils.

A letter was read from parents of the Minto school area asking that their children, who have been coming to Courtenay, should not be transferred back to Cumberland school. This action had been proposed by the board because there is a lack of room at Courtenay and plenty in the Cumberland schools. The Minto parents will be told that if it is possible their request will be granted but the board is not sure that it can.

New Cache Of Munitions In Palestine Found By British

JERUSALEM (CP)—The British army today announced another large cache of munitions and "a large quantity of British battle dress" had been uncovered in the Jewish settlement of Mesheg Yagur.

British troops have been searching the settlement in the Haifa Bay area since last Saturday, and previously had reported unearthing large quantities of contraband munitions in an elaborate underground storage depot.

A British army officer, replying to Zionist charges that the Jews were being denied of their defenses, declared: "The presence of British army battalions in the cache could never be considered defensive equipment."

He said the confiscations at Mesheg Yagur, where a total of 20 large cache had been found up to Thursday night, were a great loss to the Jews, but said: "It is only common sense that we must take everything at the present time if we are going to suppress violence."

FEELING STILL HIGH

Tension continued high in Palestine despite the release of three British officers by their Jewish kidnappers and a British announcement that many of the Jews arrested last week-end in a drive to curb armed violence were being freed.

The latest cache at Yagur was found in a bull's stall and contained a portable radio transmitter and 667 German mortar bombs as well as rifle ammunition and explosives.

The army said the search at Yagur was still going on and it was not yet known how much longer it would take.

The three British officers, caged in wooden crates, were dumped unharmed from a truck in Tel Aviv Thursday. They had been kidnapped June 18 by members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground resistance organization, and held as hostages in an attempt to enforce Irgun demands for the commutation of death sentences imposed on two young Jews for shooting at British troops.

Commutation of the death sentences was announced Wednesday by Lt.-Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, British High Commissioner for Palestine.

During the 16 days the officers were held they were kept chained by the wrists and were guarded by four Jews armed with pistols and a rubber truncheon, a British communiqué said.

TROOPS ALERTED

LONDON (CP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Jerusalem today said British soldiers had been alerted and were standing by in anticipation of Jewish retaliatory measures protesting the arrest of many Jews last week-end.

The dispatch quoted British

Claim New Drug Outdoes Penicillin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A new non-poisonous killer of disease germs, described by its sponsors as potentially greater than penicillin, was introduced to the medical profession today.

In test tubes it will kill or prevent the growth of more kinds of dangerous germs than penicillin, among them tuberculosis, tetanus, the deadly and elusive gas bacillus, typhoid, dysentery, diptheria, syphilis gonorrhea, and the organisms which cause blood poisoning, rheumatic fever and boils.

A preliminary report on its effectiveness in skin diseases, made before the American Medical Association by Dr. John G. Downing and Dr. Millard C. Hanson of Boston, said their results generally were better than with penicillin.

The drug is made from an extract of oat hulls compounded with various other chemicals.

Purchase Property

DUNCAN—First step toward a civic recreational centre was made here, when a general meeting of the Duncan Recreational Council authorized purchase for $750 of a five-acre property between the old cricket grounds and Duncan Lawn Tennis Club grounds, on Wharmcliffe Road.

Known as the Williams' property, the proposed new community centre acreage has a 200-ft. road frontage and extends in depth from Wharmcliffe Road to Cowichan River, stated James Robertson, treasurer.

It was dry land for the most part, any clearing could be effected easily, it could be made into ideal picnic grounds with the erection of tables and stoves, and there was water on the property suitable for a children's

Band Instruments Have Cost $35,000

Edmonton has spent $35,000 to provide instruments and equipment for the school boys' band which visited Victoria Thursday, T. V. Newlove, band leader, told civic leaders at a dinner at the Empress Hotel.

Mayor Percy George welcomed the boys to the city on behalf of the citizens.

Mr. Newlove said that in the 10 years he had been in charge of the band, 500 boys had played in it and he knew of not a single case of delinquency among them. He suggested other cities should emulate Edmonton's example and encourage school musical activities.

J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, arranged to meet Mr. Newlove on his return to Victoria July 15 and discuss the matter with him.

Hollywood Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judith Anderson is deserting Hollywood for good, but, strangely enough, she's not bitter.

"I'm throwing the towel in," the actress said, "but I'm not blaming Hollywood completely."

Miss Anderson said she had never remained here long enough to further her film career.

"I'd always be rushing off to Broadway or England after I completed a picture. Thus I could never follow anything up. And during the past two years I've traveled considerably."

The "traveling" comprised her extensive tours to entertain U.S. servicemen, including one long trip to the Pacific.

"Whenever I came back to Hollywood, I'd always be cast as a mean, middle-aged woman," she sighed. "I guess that's how I'm typed in the movies."

Bob Hope opened his cross-country show in Glendale and San Diego last week-end and took $22,113 out of the southern city alone. "We'll either bring back vaudeville or kill it," quipped Hope, and it may well be the former, judging from the reaction... The Anne Baxter-John Hodiak wedding in Burlingame June 14 may be postponed because of her work in the "Razor's Edge."

Her presence on the set has led to amusing incidents. "The funniest of all," she related on the set of her present picture, "Nocturne," occurred on my first picture. One evening I inspected the set which was to be used for the next day's shooting. As I walked by the stage door, two carpenters, working on the adjoining set, let loose with a long, low whistle. When I turned, they just whistled again.

"The next day I visited my set and found these same fellows working for me. 'Who're you?' one of them asked. You can imagine how peculiar he felt when I told him I was the producer."

Street Cars Are Coming Back This Is Latest, It's Noiseless

NEW YORK — No longer will an ancient flat-wheeled, clumsy street car disturb your nightly slumbers. The street car has gone modern, and the noisiest thing about the new "Trim-Trams" is the press agent shouting about how quiet they are.

Since V-J Day, 1311 of the "Trim-Trams" have been ordered. Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Washington, D.C., are getting new equipment.

Detroit, Cleveland, Birmingham, Minneapolis, Louisville, Ky., and Johnston, Pa., most of them in the population bracket of cities who have abandoned car lines during the past 20 years, also are ordering new cars.

"The dawn of the new street cars really was 1936, but the war stopped production on them as it did on everything else that wasn't necessary for the successful promotion of the war."

With buses and other means of transportation making deep inroads into the income of the electric railways in the '30s, the presidents of the companies got together for a conference to see what they could do about the problem. Silent street cars was the answer they found.

The old steel wheel is there, but with a difference. It's a rubber-and-steel "sandwich" wheel which eliminates the metal to metal transmissions of vibrations between the ground and the car.

While they were at it, the designers installed special high windows so strap-hangers can watch for their corner without getting crinks in their necks.

Even the motorman gets a break. Instead of a raucous buzzer sound in his ear when a passenger wants to get off, now he has soft, gentle chimes.

Winnipeg Welcomes Viscount Alexander

WINNIPEG (CP) — Parade square smart, even in civilian morning dress, Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, began a two-month western tour with his arrival here Thursday. He was accompanied by Viscountess Alexander and aides.

Today the Governor-General donned military dress, visited army, navy, and air force establishments in the Winnipeg district, and presented 59 decorations and awards to soldiers and airmen at a special investiture.

He also spent a short time at the Deer Lodge Military Hospital. The women's Red Cross work was visited by Viscountess Alexander.

But all the commitments of an official itinerary were forgotten for a few minutes while the couple renewed an old friendship. First thing this morning, they met a Winnipeg family — Gertrude Graham and her four brothers — all former neighbors in Ireland.

When they arrived from the east Thursday Governor-General and Viscountess Alexander were greeted by Lieutenant-Governor R. F. McWilliams of Manitoba, and senior army, navy and air force officers. A three-service guard of honor was drawn up at the station.

While in the city, Viscount and Viscountess Alexander are residing aboard two private railway cars. They will leave for Regina tonight.

Family Allowances Increase For June

During June 108,027 families received family allowance payments totalling $1,247,516, according to the monthly report from the Victoria regional office.

This sum was a slight increase over the May total of $1,243,172. Total number of children decreased slightly from 206,020 to 205,785.

By-election Order Waits Rose Appeal

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister King told the Commons Thursday nothing will be done about declaring the Montreal-Cartier seat vacant until the appeal of Fred Rose, Labor-Progressive member for the riding, has been heard. Mr. Rose was convicted of breaching the Official Secrets Act, the charges arising out of the espionage investigation.

Teachers Still Needed In City

The Greater Victoria School Board is interviewing prospective new teachers daily for the next term, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, said today, and a number of primary teachers for the elementary schools are still needed.

The high schools of the area have been pretty well staffed now, he said. A number of students from the Summer School of Education are being interviewed as prospective teachers for the city, and two of the more outstanding students from this year's Normal School graduates have been hired.

The reason for the need of so many new teachers is because so many married women who taught school during the war years are now returning to their homes. Mr. English said, although a few of them are continuing for another year on a temporary basis. The school board does not make a practice of hiring married women on the permanent teaching staff.

New marriages made only a small depletion of the staff, he said, and there were several resignations to go to other posts.

Edmonton Students Give Band Concert

Edmonton Schools Boys' Band presented a program of marches, waltzes and selections from popular operas before a large crowd at Athletic Park Thursday evening.

Headed by the high-stepping school majorette the 120-piece band, consisting of senior and junior sections, circled the park before starting their program. Selections included numbers from "The Chocolate Soldier" and "H.M.S. Pinafore." "In a Monastery Garden," "The End of a Perfect Day," a group of Sousa's marches and two hymns. Members of the colorful majorette team gave an intricate display of baton twirling.

T. V. Newlove, conductor of the band's senior section, thanked Victorians for the hospitality shown the group during their stay here. O. W. Murray conducted the junior section.

The band appeared under the auspices of the Alberta Association, members of which met the visitors on their arrival from Vancouver, where they have been taking part in the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Rewards Offered In Duncan Search

Reward totalling $75 has been offered in Duncan for information leading to the discovery of 83-year-old Harry Spinks, missing from his home since June 25.

A former employee of the City of Duncan, Spinks is believed to have drowned in the Cowichan River. During the course of a widespread search by B.C. police, who were assisted by Boy Scouts and other residents of the district, the aged man's hat was found in the river.

The City of Duncan has offered $50 reward and the Spinks family $25.
